

Jesus Saves

V1

If I were to write a song
What would I want to say
Would I write about what is wrong
Or right in the world today
If I had the chance to give
Words that could change a life
A message by which to live
In the face of consuming strife

I'd take my time
I'd say it clear
I'd shout each line
For the world to hear

CH

There's a Savior who love forgives and receives
The restless the broken the lost and diseased
Heals every hurt that you have in your heart
Gives you the strength to make a new start
You can lift up your head though the world says you can't Have hope for tomorrow in-spite of your past
What I'd like to say to the world today is...
Jesus Saves

V2

Everyone yearns for truth
Answers to ease the mind

Valid and binding proof

They search but they hardly find

A way to rise above the pain

Lord help me find

The words to say
